

Join HEAL as an individual supporter

Do you share HEAL's goal of improving people's health through better environment policy?

It is now possible for individuals to become official supporters of HEAL - joining a group of others committed to the same vision of a healthy planet for healthy people.

Individual supporters can be researchers, scientists, young people, activists, health professionals or anyone else who agrees with HEAL's overall mission and goals, and shares our vision.

In becoming an individual HEAL supporter, you will be part of a group of other committed individuals that will help strengthen our voice calling for healthier environments.

As an individual supporter, you have access to a wide variety of resources including:

- Subscription to the HEAL's monthly news bulletins - HEAL news flash;
- Subscription to HEAL Climate Change and Health list serve (approximately two-three emails a week);
- A copy of the HEAL Annual Review;
- Information package on HEAL goals, projects and campaigns - to enable you to strengthen your points by reference to HEAL goals, projects and campaigns in your own presentations and networks (available upon request by writing an email to info@env-health.org);
- Copies of HEAL publications sent by post (upon request by writing an email to info@env-health.org);
- Invitations to all HEAL events that are open to external participants.

Joining HEAL as an individual supporter does not mean enjoying the same rights as HEAL member organizations, however it requires no fee, no commitment of individual resources, and no expertise on health or the environment.
